

THE ART OF GETTING PAID

If you saw the amicus brief by Bob Kohn in a U.S. District Court, New York, drafted entirely in comic strip, then perhaps you were inspired to approach your work a little differently. We were, too, and now introduce Attorney Art as he bumbles his way through the practical, legal and ethical considerations of getting paid for legal work.

By: Sam Phillips and Shannon Briesacher, Attorneys at the Office of Chief Disciplinary Counsel

